

Sketching Derivatives

For the following functions, make a sketch of the derivative of the function on the same set of axes. When you're sure you have it, go over it in blue colored pencil. Then, on the same axes, sketch the second derivative of the function, going over it in red colored pencil.

